History and Language in St Lucia 1654-1915 May 19 2022 Sons and daughters of St Lucia are likely to love Morgan Dalphinis' clear and readable account of the island's linguistic history. His soaring overview highlights significant points of interconnection in the web of language, culture and identity as the peoples of the island confronted successive waves of change and shaped their destinies. Consequently, St Lucian History & Language not only acknowledges influences pre 1654, but in light of identified developments between that date and 1915 Dalphinis asks us some provocative questions about the direction of travel for both the language and people beyond the early decades of the twenty-first century.

Kwéyòl in Postcolonial Saint Lucia Oct 24 2022 Can historically marginalized, threatened languages be saved in the contemporary global era? In relation to the wider postcolonial world, especially the Caribbean, this book focuses on efforts to preserve and promote Lesser Antillean French Creole – Kwéyòl – as the national language of Saint Lucia and on the legacy of colonialism and impact of globalization, with which English has become the universal lingua franca, as mitigating factors undermining these efforts. It deals specifically with language planning for democratization and government; literacy, the schools and higher education; and the mass media. It also examines changes in the status of and attitudes toward Kwéyòl, English and French since national independence and presents language planning implications from these changes and steps already undertaken to elevate Kwéyòl. The book offers new insight into globalization and its impact on linguistic pluralism, language planning, national development, Creole languages, and cultural identity in the Caribbean.

Faces & Voices Jul 21 2022 Faces & Voices is a collection of all of the author's works, including all of the original poems from her other book, Faces. This anthology is more varied with more diverse themes but its core remains the same. She believes we are children of time who make our marks with different faces and voices, which we should not judge by first impressions. Based on inspiration, observation and imagination, Alexander's poetry vary from soft, gentle words of encouragement to the other extreme words of frustration and anger. Experience the raw emotions as they explode through the pages as you see, hear, vent, relax and enjoy the wonderful poems of Faces &Voices. Get a copy of this fantastic book and learn to appreciate each other's differences!

BODIES, MEMORIES AND SPIRITS Mar 17 2022 The island of Saint Lucia possesses a vibrant Creole culture that has given shape to a lively and creative people. Cyclical traditions akin to Community Theatre emerged out of discourses, counter-discourses and work practices during centuries of European slavery and/or colonization of the Amerindian, the African and the East Indian. This text provides descriptions of a selection of those traditions. The research was conducted when the author was employed with the Folk Research Centre and while he was engaged in graduate research as a student of Cultural Studies at UWI, Cave Hill. Although the author attempts to place the traditions under study in their historical context, his focus however is on a discussion of the impact of those traditions on the people and their society.

Sociolinguistic Variation in Seventeenth-Century France Jun 27 2020 This book provides a systematic study of sociolinguistic variation in seventeenth-century France. Drawing on a range of case studies, Wendy Ayres-Bennett makes available data about linguistic variation in this period, showing the wealth and variety of language usage at a time that is considered to be the most 'standardising' in the history of French. Variation is analysed in terms of the speaker's 'pre-verbal constitution' - such as gender, age and socio-economic status - or by the medium, register or genre used. As well as examining linguistic variation itself, the book also considers the fundamental methodological issues that are central to all socio-historical linguistic accounts and, more importantly, addresses the question of what the appropriate sources are for linguists taking a socio-historical approach. In each chapter, the case studies present a range of phonological, morphological, syntactic and lexical issues, which pose different methodological questions for sociolinguists and historical linguists alike.

Manual on Compliance with and Enforcement of Multilateral Environmental Agreements Jan 15 2022 This Manual expands upon Guidelines on Compliance with and Enforcement of Multilateral Environmental Agreements (MEAs). Many States participated in the development and negotiation of the Guidelines, which were adopted by the UNEP Governing Council in 2002. While this Manual is not a negotiated document, it also is the result of a collaborative process involving a wide range of numerous individuals around the world. These people assisted in drafting case studies and other contributions, reviewing the text, and suggesting substantive and formatting changes.

The Church of the Nazarene in Four of the Windward Islands Jul 09 2021 What is truly interesting about this book is that it superbly captures the fact that despite the obstacles of hurricanes, limited financial resources, and the separation of these islands by the Caribbean Sea, men and women, youths and children, both at home and abroad, triumphed in firmly establishing the Church of the Nazarene in the Windward Islands of St. Lucia, St. Vincent, Grenada, and Dominica.

BIBLIOGRAPHY OF ST. LUCIAN CREATIVE WRITING Nov 25 2022

Bibliography of St. Lucian Creative Writing: Poetry, Prose, Drama by St. Lucian writers is an invaluable reference tool for those researching St. Lucian literature, including the work of internationally recognised St. Lucian-born Nobel laureate Derek Walcott. It lists published and unpublished literature by St. Lucians writing poetry, prose, and drama. Reviews and articles on St. Lucian literature are also cited in a substantial section. Also included are a listing of background readings that throw light on the literature. While the book was several years in the making, its completion was commissioned by the Cultural Development Foundation of St. Lucia.
